

My district is beautiful. It is called Les-Fossés-Jean. It is situated in the north of Colombes. There is a festive atmosphere and there are a lot of different activities like soccer, basketball, roller-skating or American football. People help each others if the need arises. There are different nationalities and beliefs but no disrespect and no serious problems. It is at its best in June when all the generations gather and organize barbecues to celebrate the summer.

I will always remember the place where I grew up, the street where I played with my friends. I like the atmosphere in my neighbourhood. I can do a lot of activities like soccer, basketball or motorbiking. We play Monopoly and listen to music too. We organize soccer tournaments. Gennevilliers is a great town. I have lived there for 16 years.

It was last year in June. It was sunny. The festival started. The Batucada band gave a concert and teenagers performed on stage: they danced, sang and played music. All the neighbours had gathered. The children were playing with balls and running all over the place. The adults were having drinks and were speaking of their day's work. A little child was handing out beautiful roses with a big smile, he was so cute. I had never seen my neighbourhood like that. Everybody was smiling, everybody felt very happy. It was a very nice moment.

My district is very big and very quiet. People are adorable and respectful. The children like their district because it is like a maze and they can play hide-and-seek every day. The playground is very big too and you can play football there. It is surrounded by the buildings so the children can play safely because people keep an eye on them.

I live in a big old city where the inhabitants are very cheerful. There are several districts, but my favourite place is a park called L'Île Marante. I like this park because it is very quiet. I can breathe peacefully, the landscape is fantastic, the trees are beautiful and the atmosphere is very pleasant. For me, people should go there every day.

My town is beautiful. It is quite big, it is one of the largest city in the area. It is also very quiet and good for sports. It has 3 football clubs, a skating rink, swimming pools, boxing rooms and many more. There is also a fairly large park where I spend the afternoon when the weather is nice. I like going to the cinema in the evening. It is situated next to a fast food restaurant and opposite the town hall. I like my town.

There is a park in Paris where children love snowballing and adults ski or ice-skate to work. The brilliant snowballs freeze people's hands and they like it. I and my family often go for a walk in this park, and sometimes we join in the snowball fights. We feel enchanted by the snow and by people's happiness.

In spring, when the sun makes its first appearance, everyone is happy. Parents let children go out almost all day and late in the evening, just to play soccer or to be with friends because Cormeilles-en-Parisis is a quiet town and children are safe. It is also a nice town where we like walking because there are a lot of trees that protect us from the sun, a lot of parks and fields. When the weather is beautiful in Cormeilles-en-Parisis, all the children are dynamic. In summer, when the sun is high in Cormeilles, so is the morale of its inhabitants.

In Colombes, in the suburbs of Paris, there is a big and wonderful park called L'Île Marante. In this park, we can find a swimming-pool and in the summer we can sunbathe outside. There is also a big skating-rink and a tennis club with five outdoor courts and five indoors, and a weights room with a lot of equipments. During the summer, we can run in the park or have fun with the whole family because there are games for children: a slide, a swing and a square of sand. And lazy people can sleep on the grass.
